

Dementia Friendly Community Joining the National Network

Dementia Friendly America (DFA) communities are influencers and catalysts for change that foster capability to support people with dementia and their care partners in local communities across the nation. The following factors indicate that your community is ready for and committed to this undertaking. Joining the DFA network means you are engaged in a process to become more dementia-friendly. DFA does not certify communities as dementia-friendly. Communities interested in being a member of the Dementia Friendly America network pledge that their efforts will include the following factors.

Readiness and Recognition Criteria

- Inclusion and Leadership of People Living with Dementia. People living with dementia and their caregivers are key to leading and shaping dementia friendly communities. It is imperative that people living with dementia shape a dementia friendly community effort.
- Establish and maintain a cross-sector team that works collaboratively to create change. Creating change in a community cannot be accomplished without establishing and maintaining an effective planning team that works collaboratively. A cross-sector team includes at a minimum, government, clinical, community-based organizations and people living in community with dementia and their care partners. Ideally, several community sectors are represented on the cross-sector team. The team is an asset that will help to engage the wider community to increase awareness and change the way the community thinks about living with dementia. No one single organization can be responsible for change across a community.
- Connecting Across Sectors. DFA communities convene a cross-sector team across three or more community sectors to advance dementia friendliness. A cross-sector team includes at a minimum, government, clinical, community-based organizations and people living in community with dementia and their care partners. Ideally, several community sectors are represented on the cross-sector team.<sup>1</sup>
- Adoption and Communication of Dementia Friendly Practices and Change Goals. DFA communities foster sector-specific dementia friendly practices across their communities. The DFA toolkit guides communities through a step-by-step process that fosters adoption of dementia friendly practices in all parts of community. The DFA toolkit guides communities through a comprehensive process of convening an action team, identifying community needs, prioritizing those needs and developing an action plan for ensuring a more dementia friendly community. Please summarize how your community plans to engage in dementia friendly work and how it will sustain these efforts moving forward.

<sup>1</sup> Sectors of community include are listed on the DFA website and include banks/financial services, community members, legal and advanced planning, local government (including transportation, housing, first response, public spaces), health care, hospitals, libraries, faith communities, businesses, community-based services, and residential and specialty care.

- Champion Organization and Coordination Capacity. Many DFA communities benefit from having an organization that is willing to champion, coordinate and, if needed, serve as a fiscal sponsor. The champion organization may help recruit and partner with a senior leader of local government in the effort (e.g. mayor; city council; other elected officials).
- Progress Tracking and Sharing. Communities will report progress by providing a current program description, upon request, and by completing periodic surveys.
